Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Friday 07 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Showers largely fading to leave a clear, chilly night.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers largely dying away this evening but continuing across the Northern Isles. Clearing skies will lead to a frost and some fog patches. Clouding over in the south later.

Saturday:
After a dry start cloud and rain will move northeast through the day. Turning drier in the south in the afternoon, and the north in the evening. Windy along coasts.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Unsettled with scattered showers, some longer spells of rain possible across the west at times. Feeling much warmer than of late.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.